

23Rd Annual Indigenous Sustainable Communities Design Course July 21 – August 2

Design Course hosted at Camino de Paz , school / farm
....Santa Cruz Northern New Mexico camping available , locally sourced & prepared lunches , field trips to local communities and ancient sites Hands-on experience
TNAFA
pueblo2pueblo@gmail.com tnafa_org@yahoo.com
www.tnafa.org

ISCDC is a 13-day intensive hands-on training “for Indigenous peoples” in ecological design, indigenous farming, Indigenous women in agriculture, seed saving , earth restoration ,earth building, solar energy, midwifery, natural healing, and restoring community. This Design course through a variety of methods, demonstrates how many disciplines must be integrated into a “whole living system” ,using natures model of sustainability and diversity.Creating solutions through Indigenous knowledge and wisdom. Featuring all Indigenous Women Instructors A design course for Indigenous Peoples ,rural and urban, Indigenous peoples registration fee; 250.00 TNAFA can offer limited partial scholarships Contact TNAFA for details For more information contact TNAFA Program Director. pueblo2pueblo@gmail.com tnafa_org@yahoo.com information and registration forms at www.tnafa.org