The Traditional Native American Farmers Association (TNAFA) is an Affiliate Program of the Seventh Generation Fund for Indigenous Peoples a 501 ( c ) 3 non-profit corporation.

TNAFA 's mission; "to revitalize traditional agriculture for spiritual and human need"

The Indigenous Sustainable Communities Design Course (ISCDC) was first taught (1996) as a "Permaculture" design course and we used the syllabus from the International Permaculture Institute based in Tasmania Australia. Since the very first years we began to modify this course to best reflex our community priorities and cultures. The title of the course is currently changed to reflex these changes.

TNAFA wishes to provide a healthy productive (13) day course to all that have an interest in creating a sound ecological , culturally appropriate future.

TNAFA , seeks funding from private foundations to cover some cost to host this course. But we also request the student participants to "invest" in the success of the course. We ask if you can provide any funds towards this course this is most welcome and needed . The actual full cost is approximately [ 1,800.00 ] per student , you are able to cover partial amount we will be able to cover the remainder. We're requesting partial payment and or an in-kind donation. In-kind can be an item of similar value, or volunteer time. This contribution can be provided over a period of time. Upon a mutual agreement.

Partial Scholarship plan 1 ; Pay half amount or registration fee 200.00 , then the reminder in installments over an agree time. ( 12 months )
